--- BOYS SCHOOL NEWS ---

The SIXTH GRADE boys put their zoology knowledge to the test and organized a sample of invertebrates into groups based on some key traits. They have been learning about the twelve different phyla of animals without backbones in Mrs. Boehm's science class. Shmully David, Yair Klein and Zev Gewirtz, Yosef Sentell and Nachi Anton, Noah Jacob and Aryeh Gordon, Chanani Usprich and Yehuda Botuck

Mrs. Lingua's fourth graders did another fun science experiment on density. They put oil water and food coloring in a bottle and then added fizzy tablets. The oil globules rose in the water, making a "lava Lamp" of sorts. Dovid Freedman adding fizzy tablets. Dovy Kowalsky watching the action begin. Shimmy Swidler and Eliezer Berkowitz watching the action.
